RE: NEI Radiation Protection Forum – Virtual

FROM: DeeDee McNeill
DATE: July 6, 2020

Due to these unprecedented times from the COVID-19 pandemic, the NEI Radiation Protection Forum will be held virtually this year. NEI has contracted Cadmium to support the virtual conference. Cadmium builds a powerful virtual event platform that recreates conferences and trade shows. This opportunity will be as close to “being there” as you will get.

There is limited booth space available (15–20) so get your registration in as soon as possible. NEI and NSA have been working behind the scenes over the last couple of months to provide our members this opportunity!

The Forum is Tuesday, August 11, 2020, 11:00am – 4:00pm EST and Wednesday, August 12, 2020, 11:00am – 4:00pm.

Note: The Nuclear Suppliers Association is supporting this meeting to begin to bring our members and clients together again

Meeting Information

The Cadmium vendors information is attached in the pdf file. Also included is information regarding booth upgrades, sponsorship opportunities and video chat information. Additional information:

- All attendees will be live
- Special equipment needed: need a camera on your computer to video chat, possible bandwidth required (TBD)
- Booth personal do not need to physically be in the same location
- Each booth has access to a 50-person maximum video chat room
- Breakrooms will be used for vendor presentations
- Vendor presentations will be 6-8 mins (depending on number of vendors participation)
- NEI expects attendees from 75 plants
- Vendors may attend NEI sessions
- Gamefication will be included in the booth fee (similar to the Passport drawing)
- Each vendor will receive a post-event report showing every person that visited your booth. Vendors should NOT enter their competitors booths without invitation
- Virtual booth upgrades are available through Cadmium

Please complete the attached Vendor Participation Form and return to nsanews@charter.net by Friday, July 10, 2020.
